“Lloyd Fraser have worked with Oval for many years, and consider this to be an important business partnership. Oval's team spend time with all our divisions to ensure that they thoroughly understand our business and the changing needs of our varied haulage and warehousing contracts. They work very closely with us on analysing and managing our claims, dealing with them quickly and efficiently, and negotiating settlements with insurers. When any claim appears to be suspicious or exaggerated, they arrange for these to be thoroughly investigated to ensure that our claims record does not suffer from these.

We would have no hesitation in recommending Oval.”
